Shooting Accessories > Tactical Gear > Chest Rigs

The Micro Fight Chassis MkV is a small and lightweight chassis that can be used as either a standalone magazine placard on a plate carrier, or the central hub for a chest rig when other Spiritus Systems components are used. The MkV is a single cell placard-style chassis that is built with all-new materials and manufacturing processes. The design features MOLLE on the front and sides to accommodate additional magazine pouches. Tourniquets and other equipment can also be stowed outboard with our universal retention kit, and a row of anchor points along the top opening will interface with our magazine bungee retention kit to secure any caliber of weapon. The main cell of the MkV Chassis is lined with loop Velcro on both sides and will accommodate all of Spiritus Systems' magazine inserts. Versatile and Scalable The Micro Fight Chest Rig MkV will interface with the whole line of Spiritus Systems chest rig and plate carrier components. The footprint of the MkV is identical to the Mk4 and will seamlessly connect with Expander Wings, LV/119 plate bags, and the Thing 1 and Thing 2. The MkV is extremely capable as a low-bulk solution for environments where space and weight command a premium. However, the product's modularity and compatibility with all Spiritus Accessories allow the micro fight to scale from a minimalistic magazine carrier to a full-fledged plate carrier system, or various sustainment and comms-focused chest rigs. The CCS Pouch The MkV can be combined with its companion product, the CCS Pouch. The CCS pouch is a full-featured GP Pouch that vastly improves upon the legacy front cell's functionality, and storage capacity. For those that do not need a GP Pouch solution, the MkV's MOLLE front will accept any 3rd party magazine holders or other pouches
