Bounty Hunter Brace for Smith & Wesson XFrame Safety Instruction Guide

Introduction

Thank you for choosing the Bounty Hunter Brace for Smith & Wesson XFrame. This innovative product has been designed to enhance the usability and adaptability of your revolver. To ensure your safety and the safety of others, please read this guide carefully before using the product. It includes important information regarding safe usage, installation instructions, and disposal guidelines.

General Safety Guidelines

- Always ensure that the firearm is unloaded before attaching or detaching the Bounty Hunter Brace.
- Keep your hands and other body parts clear of the cylinder when handling the firearm to prevent injury.
- Use this product only with Smith & Wesson X Frame Revolvers.
- Wear appropriate ear and eye protection when using the firearm.
- Do not exceed the recommended ammunition capacity of the shell plate holder.
- Store the product in a secure location, away from children and unauthorized users.
- Follow all relevant federal, state, and municipal laws regarding firearm ownership and use.

Specific Safety Precautions for Use

- Proper Alignment: Ensure that the brace is properly aligned for seamless use with iron sights and red dot mounts to avoid misfires or accidents.
- Ambidextrous Design: The brace is designed for both right and lefthanded shooters. Make sure to adjust it according to your preference for optimal control.
- Disassembly: Use the hardened steel takedown thumbscrew to disassemble the brace for compact storage. Ensure that the firearm is unloaded before disassembly.
- Sling Configuration: Utilize the 5 quickdetach sling sockets to set up a sling configuration that suits your needs. Ensure that the sling is securely attached to prevent accidental detachment.
- Comfort Features: Take advantage of the polymer textured grip panels and rubber butt pad for superior comfort and recoil management. Adjust your grip as needed for stability.
